24. ABSTRACT PRESENTATIONS at NATIONAL/INTERNATIONAL, REGIONAL, and INSTITUTIONAL CONFERENCES:

a. National and International:

Agnew, C, Kottke, M and Davis, J. Oral poster presentation at the National Conference on Health Communication, Marketing and Media, August 10, 2011, Atlanta, GA. "Youth Driven Social-Media: A Strategy for Youth Engagement Online"

Agnew, C, Mitchell, M, Davis, J, and Kottke, M. Oral poster presentation at the American Public Health Association Annual meeting November, 2011 in Washington, DC. "Starting Strong: Teen dating violence prevention via a youth-driven social networking website"

Crittenden Murray, C, Wilkins Thompson, W, Hatfield-Timajchy, K, Kraft, J, Bergdall, A, Blake, Gaydos, L, Kottke, M.J. and DiClemente. Poster presentation at the American Public Health Association Annual meeting November, 2011 in Washington DC. "My mama has boyfriends and is still having babies": Sociocultural aspects of dual protection among young African-American women."

Manski, R and Kottke, M. Oral poster presentation at the North American Society for Pediatric and Adolescent Gynecology Annual Meeting, April 16, 2015 in Orlando, FL. "A survey of adolescents' attitudes toward over-the-counter access to oral contraceptives"

25. RESEARCH FOCUS:

Areas of interest in research include: developing a computerized tool that helps women choose the best method of birth control for them, post-abortion IUD placement, post-partum contraception, contraceptive drug interactions, long term reversible methods of contraception, adolescent reproductive health, teen dating violence prevention, dual protection in adolescents, and sexuality education.

26. GRANT SUPPORT:

a. Active support:

i. Federal Support:

NIH/NCRR 5UL1RR025008 (Stephens)

October 2007-present

"Atlanta-Clinical and Translational Science Institute (A-CTSI)"

Role: Co-Investigator, Community Engagement and Research Program

The A-CTSI is an inter-institutional magnet that concentrates basic, translational, and clinical investigators, community clinicians, professional societies, and industry collaborators in dynamic clinical and translational research projects. Emory has engaged two of its close academic partners in metropolitan Atlanta - Morehouse School of Medicine and Georgia Institute of Technology. Dr. Kottke serves as a member of the Community Engagement in Research Program that seeks to improve translation of bench science to clinical practice and community impact.

$31,000,000

CDC DP U01 DP003894

September 2012-2017

“A multi-media group based clinical care and support model to increase dual protection”

Role: Principal Investigator

This project will design and test a clinic based intervention to increase dual protection use among African American teen females attending a Title X clinic. This will be a randomized controlled trial of a multi-media decision support tool for selection and continuation of a strategy to prevent both pregnancy and STDs.

$3,200,000

Grant scored in the first percentile of all applications received.

i. Foundation Support:

January 2013-2016

“Teen Pregnancy in Georgia”

Role: Principal Investigator

This provides unrestricted grant funds to focus on efforts to address teen pregnancy in the state of Georgia. Particular focus is directed to decreasing repeat teen births, training of clinical providers and participating in a state-wide Public-Private-Partnership.

$90,000

Society for Family Planning Research/SFPRF7-T1

July 15, 2014 to July 14, 2015

“A Survey of Adolescents’ Attitudes Toward Over-the-Counter Access to Oral Contraceptive Pills”

Role: Mentor/Co-Investigator (Manski)

A growing body of evidence suggests that over-the-counter access to oral contraceptive pills may improve contraceptive access and use among adult women. However, no work to date has directly investigated how moving oral contraceptive pills over the counter would impact adolescents, a population disproportionately impacted by unintended pregnancy. This quantitative study seeks to fill this gap in the literature.

$5,000

PeachState grant to Georgia Ob/Gyn Society

May 2014-May 2015

“Immediate Postpartum LARC Placement Training”

Role: Trainer

This project supports training for clinicians in the immediate postpartum

IUD and implant practices at the six Regional Perinatal Centers in Georgia.
$25,000

b. Previous Support:

Anonymous Foundation

June 2006- 2011

“Use of a computer-based contraceptive survey providing personalized output”

Role: Principal Investigator

This project developed and validated a computer module (www.bestmethodforme.com) to assist in contraceptive decision-making.
$60,000

Anonymous Foundation

April 2008-2011

“Improving Contraceptive Method Choice with a Self-Administered Computer Module,”

Role: Principal Investigator

This project studied use of a computer module to assist in contraceptive decision-making.
$155,000

Ford Foundation

September 2008- 2012

“Centering Sex Education,”

Role: Co- Principal Investigator

The goal of this project was to shift the paradigm of sex education in the US. It engages young people in a dialogue about their core needs regarding sexuality education utilizing peer educators, multi-media, and personal reflection.
$500,000

Robert Wood Johnson Foundation

November 2008-2012

“Celebration, Building Healthy Teen Relationships”

Role: Principal Investigator

This project aimed to reduce teen dating violence by educating teens in school, educating teens and teen influencers out of school, changing policy and through a social media campaign (www.startstongatl.org).

CDC SIP09-020,
October 2009-2012
“Multiple Perspectives on Dual Protection Use by Young Women”
Role: Co-Principal Investigator
This project sought multiple perspectives of dual protection. First, qualitative methods were utilized to better understand dual protection from young African American women attending an urban family planning clinic as well as from the health care workers in the clinic. This lay the groundwork for the quantitative assessment. The second phase of the project is collecting cross-sectional data from African American teenaged females attending the teen family planning clinic about dual protection strategies and its influencers. This phase also includes biological outcomes of common STDs and pregnancy.
